Now—for the first time—you can have a New York Times Index reproduced in part in the original handwritten form! (A collector's treasure.)

Abd-el Kader, apparently a terrible-tempered Turk, was sent to prison where he stabbed a fellow prisoner to death, was visited by Louis Napoleon, freed, interviewed by Napoleon in Paris, invited to England by Lord Londonderry, and finally made his way to Turkey.

This fascinating essence of a dramatic lifetime is captured and capsuled — in the original handwriting — in the very first entries of the New York Times Index spanning the years 1851-58.

This handwritten segment of the 1851-1862 Index is published for the first time in book form. It is a rare find. But that's not all. Until now, the 1859-1862 portion has never been available in any form.

Now all of it is yours in one volume published by Bowker.

Bowker is now reprinting all back volumes indexing the New York Times from 1851 through 1961. Already available are 1863-1905; 1913-1961; some in one volume, others in in two. Also 1962, 1963, 1964, 1965 in annual volumes.

The 1851-62 Index, in one volume is $44.50 net postpaid in U.S. and Canada; $48.95 elsewhere, a most remarkable value. Coming in November. Order yours today!
